

About Us

As one of the largest forensic mental health groups in the country, Atrium provides a deep and broad range of expert psychiatric, neuropsychological and psychological expertise at competitive rates.

In conjunction with their forensic work, atrium experts maintain active clinical practices. Many teach at major medical schools and graduate programs, while others are on staff at some of the most reputable hospitals in the United States.

Atrium's management team consists of experienced litigators, physicians and psychologists. Our experts understand the unique complexities of work in the forensic arena. Attorneys benefit from a complimentary in-depth initial case consultation , as well as cost estimates for the case as a whole and for the discrete components of our expert's work.

The Group and its experts aspire to the highest levels of professionalism and integrity. We look forward to providing you and your clients with the finest quality of service.
